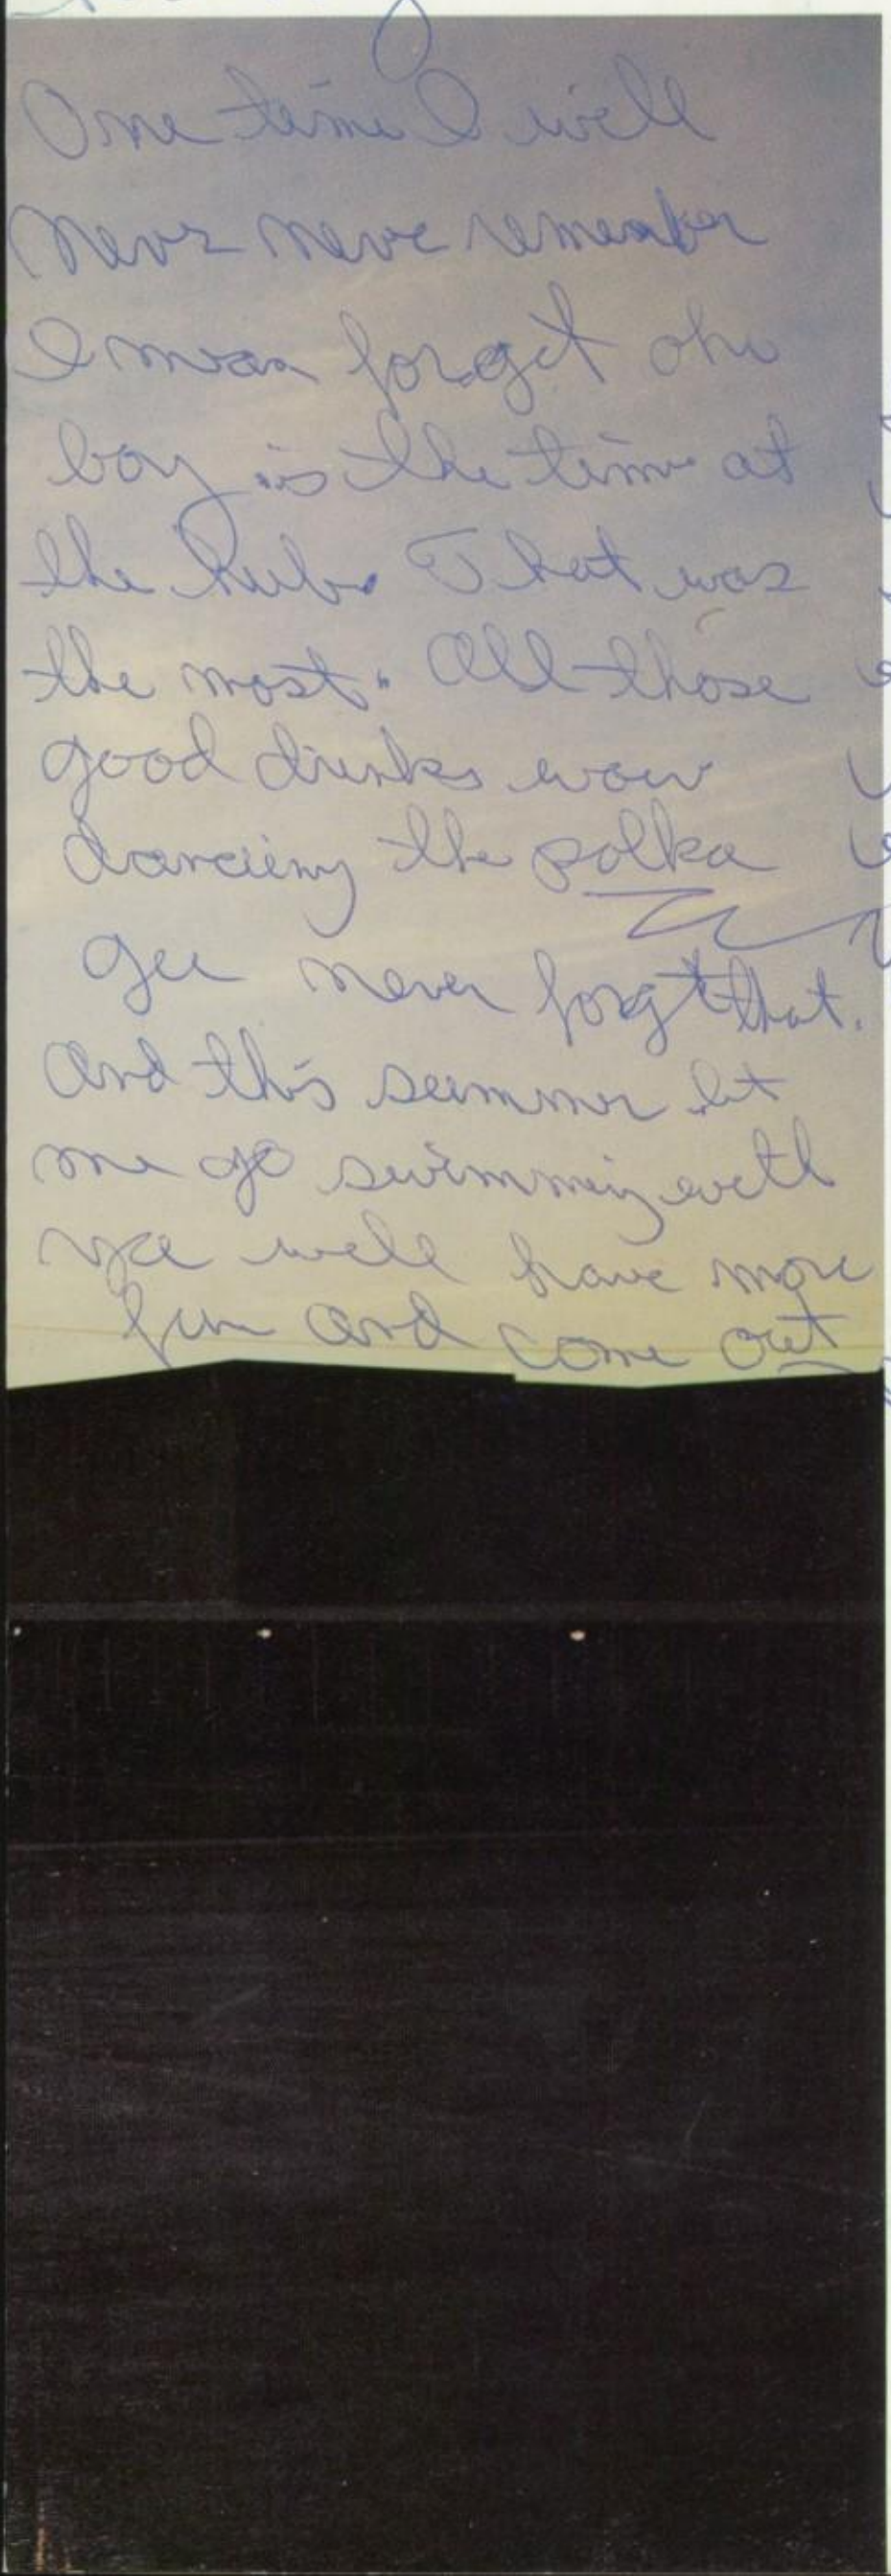
Kewanee High School
Kewanee, Illinois
Presents

"K.H.S. in Action"

1969 Kewanite

Volume 65

As the brilliant sun rises over Kewanee High School, it marks the beginning of a new day. This new day will be filled with activities that will enrich the minds and characters of every student. As the day steadily progresses, the students gain not only knowledge but also a sense of responsibility. By participating in these activities the students take an active part in their school. Every phase of student participation is contained in the Kewanite. The faculty and administration are also a part of this continuing participating spirit, thus awarding them a place in the midst of student involvement. Through student participation in classroom discussions, organizations, and sports, we, the student body, are able to display to the community "K.H.S. in Action".



Hello Sharon (Okay as in hay) you could've been helping me for Geometry but you weren't. Oh well I know it wasn't too interesting for you. Next time I'll make them better looking. Oh yeah for meeting me & Steve too. You're really great at getting Guys for the Prom again. Good luck with Steve Lots of love Terry

Responsibilities

At K. H. S.
Students exercise
many responsibilities.
They take an active part in helping their fellow students
through student tutor programs.
Office runners and Study Hall teachers are among the ranks
of K. H. S.ers.
Through the Student Council
many take on the duty of disciplining
while at the same time
setting an example for others.

Learning—Socially and Academically

Learning is active
at K. H. S.
Through speech classes,
students are taught to express themselves
clearly and logically.
Another form of expression is taught here—
using pictures instead of words.
The other aspect of learning—the social side is also encouraged at
K. H. S.
Students find that friendships
made through school life are lasting.

Sharon,
Youra sweet
girl so stay that way. Be good to Terry!
good luck in the future.

Activities

Through varied activities
Students discover the light side
of life at K. H. S.
Many hours of practicing Skits are all worthwhile to make K. H. S.ers forget their school worries.
Working on publications
also adds variety
to the lives of interested students.
The big events of the year
Mid-Winter and Homecoming would not be the same without enthusiastic student participation.

Training

An important part of K. H. S.'s curriculum is its many
work programs.
Any students wishing to learn a trade find many opportunities available
to him.
As an agricultural community, Kewanee
is greatly benefited
by the Ag courses
offered here.
K. H. S. also takes time to train
"Homemakers of Tomorrow."

EMERGENCY
SHELTER AREA 4

Administration Sets High Standards

Seeing to the smooth operation of all schools in District No. 229 was the job of the 1968-'69 Superintendent of Schools, Mr. James Golby. As in past years, the responsibilities of being superintendent included those of Chief Executive of the Board of Education. Realizing the need for a better means of communication between the students and faculty of Kewanee schools, Mr. Golby worked indirectly during the year to solve this problem. Through numerous meetings with the K.H.S. Student Advisory Board, he kept well informed about student views by receiving he actual opinions of the students themselves. It was a job requiring not only much time and effort but a tremendous amount of devotion and patience.

Keeping the people of the community in touch with school activities and deciding on the policies for all schools in the area were the aims of the 1968-'69 Board of Education. Elected directly by the people of Kewanee, the board performed such duties as hiring teachers, setting the budget, and providing for the best possible educational program. Each member, actively participating in the affairs of the community, gave freely of time and ability and made every possible effort to improve our education.

Mr. Ken Sullens, Assistant Superintendent

School Board: Mr. Petersen, Mr. White, Mr. Rodak, Mr. Carlson, Mrs. Melchin, Mr. Hepner, Mr. Clong, Mr. Doxsee.

Miss Adela Wesebaum; Mrs. Ruth Melchin, Secretary to the Board.

Mr. James Golby, Superintendent of Schools.

Mrs. Helen Collins, Accountant; Mrs. Shirley Golden, Director of Payroll.

K.H.S. Revolves Around Administrators

Mr. Marvin Damron
Principal

Kewanee High School students having problems in school work or those needing help in selecting a college knew that they could always obtain prompt assistance from any member of the Kewanee High Guidance Staff. A new system was developed this year in which each class was given a counselor who would take care of all student matters concerning his particular class.

Along with her duties as Dean of Girls, Miss Pletkovich was given the unending task of acting as counselor to the Freshman Class. Mr. Middleton was assigned as Sophomore Class counselor, and also retained his job as Dean of Boys and Vice-Principal. The Junior Class was happy with the appointment of Mr. Leitze as their counselor, and Mr. Pryor was announced as Senior Class counselor and remained Assistant Principal.

Mr. Damron, the principal at Kewanee High, spent even more time than the counselors on school matters. His main effort was to make K.H.S. a better place for both faculty and students. He worked diligently to bridge the wide gap between the students and the faculty by giving the students more responsibility in keeping order around the school. Besides his many duties as principal, Mr. Damron also found time to serve as advisor to the Student Executive Board.

The counselors at Kewanee High provided the best possible aid to any student who asked for help or guidance. They played a vital role at K.H.S. by helping the day go smoother and faster for all.

Mr. Damron and Dennis Doty get an early start on the details of graduation arrangements.

Faculty—Allies for Better Education

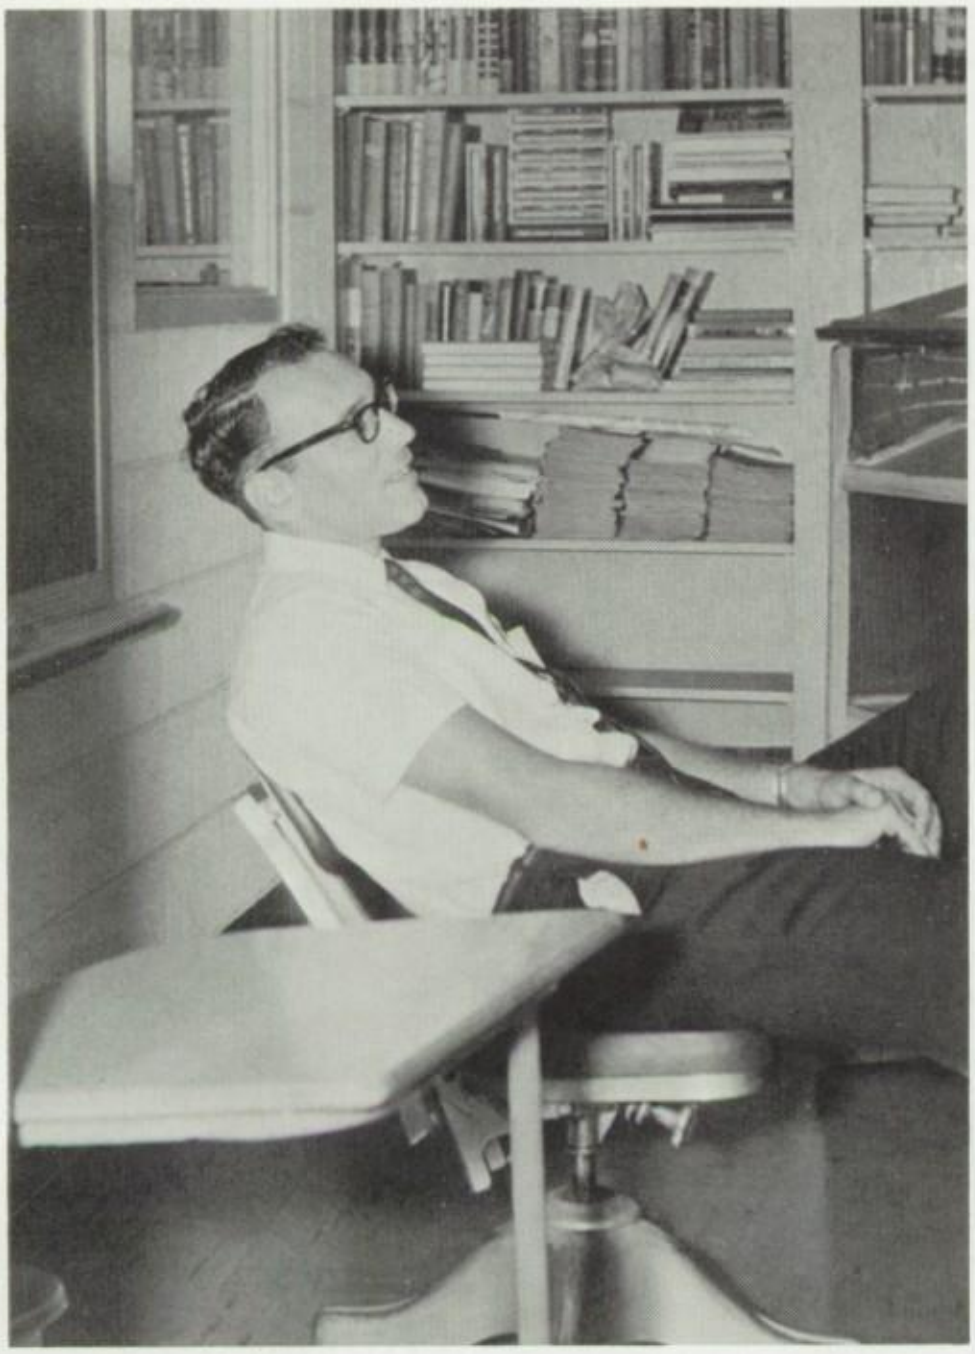
Mrs. Leitze shows Claudia Werderman the techniques of molding clay.

Building, molding, and illuminating the minds and characters of each student was the ultimate objective of the Kewanee High School faculty. Battling against the evils of apathy and disinterest these educators met each new challenge head on. As allies in the battle for a better education, the teachers constantly refused to surrender. They continued to fight to bridge the ever-present gap between the students and the faculty by participating in student activities, and by generously acting as advisers to organizations.

The faculty members tried to make classes more interesting by incorporating different teaching techniques and new sources of material. They always managed to keep the students on their toes and well-informed on current events and recent advancements. They influenced the characters of their students through good examples of leadership and citizenship. The word defeat was non-existent to the faculty members as each attempt to ignite the spirit of learning in a student was continued until successful. They carried the torch for a better education, and never allowed the flame to die.

Explaining the use of pulleys to his class, Mr. Malcolm finds the overhead projector comes in handy.

Caught off guard, Craig Covington finds that it helps to pay attention in class.



Assuming his usual position, Mr. Williams lectures on the days of Chaucer and Shakespeare during one of his senior English classes.

Preparing to show a film in Advanced Biology, Mr. Buchanan carries the equipment to his room before school.

Preparation

The main purpose of the English courses is to teach students better or more correct ways of communication. This is accomplished through extensive grammatical study, involved literature reading, and basic speech making techniques. The department also added supplementary courses which include Contemporary and World Literature and Advanced Speech.

The highlight of the English program is the college preparatory classes. This course is offered to all college bound students and consists of four years of advanced study. The main objective of this course is to prepare these students for college English classes. The fourth year bypasses the fundamentals and gets right down to subject matter similar to that in a Freshman college rhetoric class.

The English Department also has two other levels of language study. B - English is especially geared for the student going into business or to a technical school. A - English is designed for those students who do not plan to continue their education after high school.

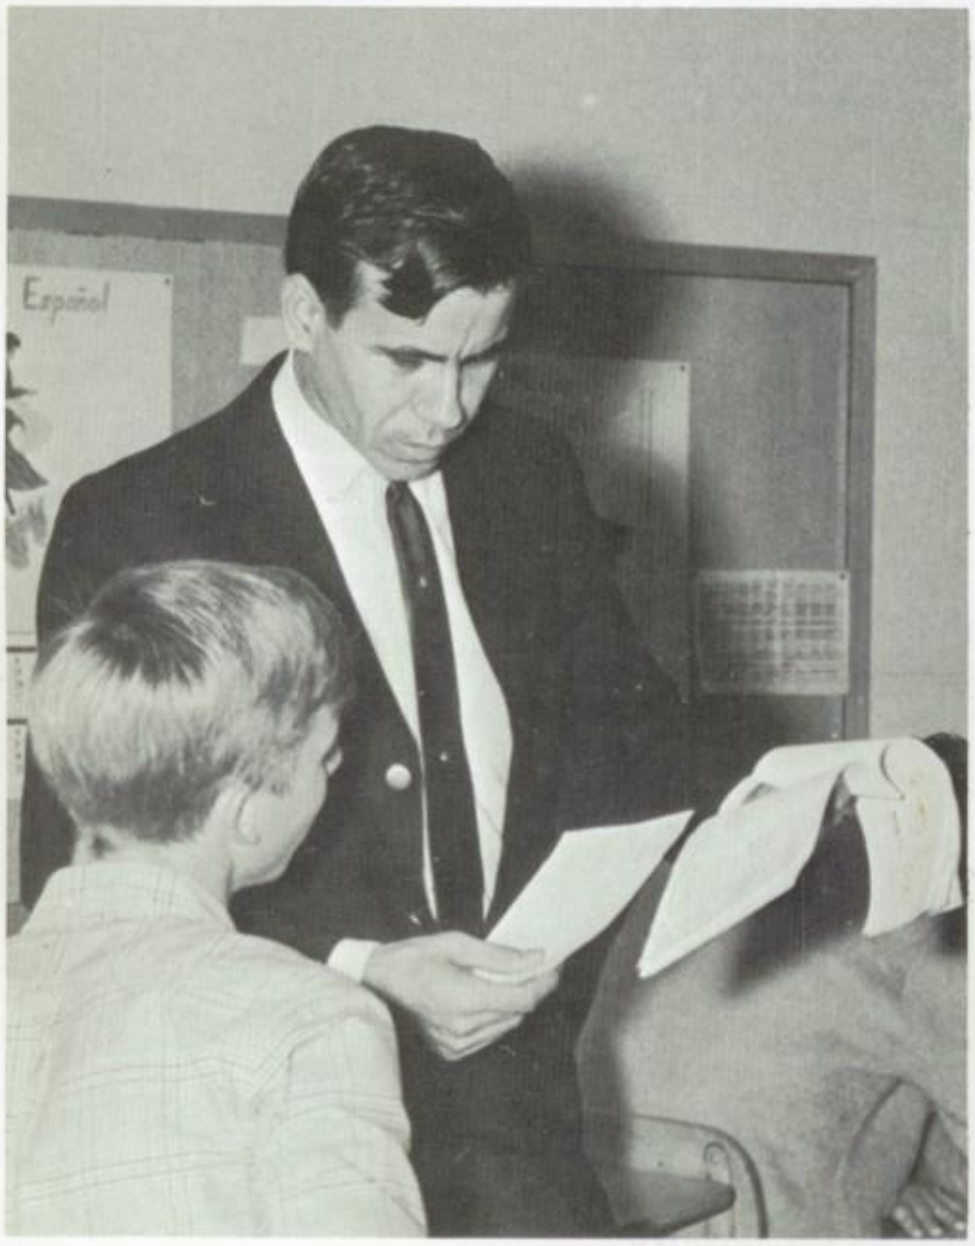
Languages Carry Us to Other Lands

Realizing the tensions of international affairs, the Foreign Language Department strove to bridge one of the greatest barriers between the peoples of different countries—the barrier of language. In offering a fine program in French, Spanish, and Latin, this department had as its goal the mutual understanding of a country's ideas and traditions through the understanding and speaking of a country's native tongue. This program, in addition to giving enjoyment to the student, aimed itself at improving world relations.

Mr. Carlat spends many hours making a lesson plan which challenges his Latin students' abilities.

Checking through Richard Ruzas' daily asignments, Mr. DeLosSantos gives some additional information.



Cheryl Bennett verifies that she did her homework by reciting her French lesson to the class.

At the master control, Mrs. Hamm prepares to listen to the class recitation.

Visual Aids Add Variety to Social Studies

Using a Government chart for help, Mrs. Brockman explains the term "strip city" to Connie Petty.

The Social Studies Department at Kewanee High School is especially prepared to give its students a well-rounded education in this course of study. One thing which helps the teachers in this field to convey the fundamentals of Social Studies is the excellent visual aids department at K.H.S. In all of these classrooms can be found a storehouse of knowledge pertaining to Social Studies.

The interested students are presented with courses which range from U.S. History to Economics to Sociology. As semesters pass and students spend more and more time in Social Studies classes, they become more aware of world problems of the past and present. These courses are also very useful in daily life as they will allow us to be better prepared for the business matters, social matters, and governmental matters which we will have to face in the years to come.

Fine Arts Progam

Kewanee High School takes pride in the Fine Arts program offered to all students. The band, one division of this department, achieved distinction in performances on the football field, and at basketball games and at pep assemblies. They added to this by being represented in various music contests including the N.C.I.C. Music Festival and the Tri-School Band Festival.

The vocal department, which is widely known for its excellence, displayed its fine vocal abilities at the Christmas assembly and at three concerts presented to the student body and the entire community.

The art department achieved success in the use of art materials, and in appreciating and understanding works of art. The art students displayed their ability to the public through a bazaar at Christmas time and through a display in the Kewanee High Gym in the Spring.

The K.H.S. Fine Arts Department puts an emphasis on the modern cultural revolution. Through this emphasis the art students are now becoming more aware of the importance and effects of Fine Arts on this ever-changing world.

In order to keep up with the swift pace set by the modern world, it is necessary to have not only a well-trained mind but also a fully-functioning body. Kewanee High School, in recognizing the need for a well-conditioned body, has presented to its students an excellent physical education department. Not content to rely upon traditional exercises and games this program stresses group involvement as well as individual achievement. Always adhering to state regulations, this department presented the opportunity to learn the many aspects of sports and gymnastics.

Fully realizing the importance of its program, the Driver's Education Department obtained and presented new techniques to the K.H.S. student. In addition to helping the pupil develop good driving skills through braking distance and peripheral vision machinery, this program taught its students to reduce accidents through better understanding of the "Rules of the Road".

Vocational Staff Meets Challenges

Future achievement for students is the main interest of the Vocational Department of KHS. Such achievement covers very diversified areas including business, homemaking, industrial arts, and agriculture. These areas are equipped with outstanding facilities, especially the industrial arts department.

Our teachers are well qualified in these areas and place the emphasis on student learning. This learning definitely will help provide training for vocational skills. These courses are more or less stepping stones to fine careers.

Today the finest jobs are furnished to those students who have the finest educational backgrounds. High School provides a foundation for vocations. The challenge of the future is very great, but at KHS the students are apt to meet that challenge.

Skills Acquired for Business World

Business classes, recognized by few students, make up an important part of the academic courses offered here at Kewanee High School. In preparing for an occupation in the business field, shorthand or bookkeeping, for example, would prepare some of our future secretaries for the business world. Another idea many K.H.S. students overlook is that not only do business courses help to prepare for a future occupation, but typing is also useful in preparing lessons for high school and future college classes. Business education gives students a perspective of what the business world is all about.

Math Department Offers Challenge

In keeping pace with the changing times, the Math Department at Kewanee High School has introduced the system of "new math." The student, benefiting through the achievement of greater efficiency, receives the needed help to succeed in his prospective profession. Math occupies a very important place in the lives of the millions of people connected with it. The teacher, the clerk, the scientist, the engineer, all playing a vital role in the advancement of man, are all dependent upon the skills of mathematics.

K.H.S., realizing this importance, offers four years of math to prepare the student for a successful career. For no matter which field he chooses, the question of whether he makes it or not may depend on his knowledge of math.

In this new age of numerous advancements Science has become a very important field of study. The importance of a good Science background is stressed not only in colleges, but also in the high schools throughout the nation. Kewanee High School is no exception as it offers six different science courses including Physics and Physiology. Most of the Science courses include a double period two days a week which allows enough time for students to have a lab session or extended class discussions. In the lab sessions the students learn how to use laboratory equipment and to develop basic laboratory techniques. Not only does our Science Department offer courses which will prepare the more advanced student for college, but also allows students an opportunity to gain a general understanding of science and its principles.

Personnel Staff Assists Students

The personnel staff at K.H.S. was always there to give the students a helping hand this past year. The custodians, besides their regular duties, were present at all the social functions keeping things in order and cleaning up after the various events.

Another essential person on the staff was Mrs. Harvey, who was kept busy throughout the year giving eye and ear checks to the students. She was always willing to help with an unexpected accident.

The cooks and bus drivers were two other groups who worked hard to keep K.H.S. on the go. The bus drivers got us to our destinations and the cooks kept us nourished throughout the year.

Personnel also includes the office staff and the librarians. Some of their responsibilities were figuring schedules and keeping the files in order. It is evident that the personnel staff is essential in maintaining order and neatness at K.H.S.

Office Help: Mrs. Daniels, Miss Hoose, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. Brown.

Librarians: Mrs. McKenna and Mrs. Lay.

Indelible Memories Mark Special Days

Kathy Stewart displays spirit as students spur on the Boilers.

"Last", a word used by many Seniors as they recalled the activities and memories of their four great years at Kewanee High School. With no more challenging years ahead of them here, the word "last" echoed down the halls describing all of the activities Seniors sponsored or participated in actively during the '68-'69 school year.

Starting off on the right foot, the Class of '69 opened the year by sponsoring a most successful "Psychedelic" homecoming. Reigning as queen over the festivities was Melanie Laub, with Nancy Allen as Senior Attendant. Homecoming was one of the most important events on the Senior's activity lists. Other responsibilities many Seniors helped manage during the past year were popcorn sales at football and basketball games, Student Advisory Board to Mr. Damron, the Senior Class Play, and the unforgettable term papers for Mr. Williams. All of these activities and more made a productive year for the K.H.S. Seniors.

As the Seniors started the year out right, they ended it right, also, by leaving behind them the many accomplishments of their four years. Their last year of high school had ended, but K.H.S. has made a sound foundation for a good beginning in life.

Juniors Aim for Individual Honors

Junior Class Officers: Rod Young, treasurer; Moira Fulton, secretary; Rich Kirley, president; Mike Moriarity, vice-president; Mr. Lindley, adviser.

"Upperclassmen!" this word echoed throughout the halls of Kewanee High School as the 1968-'69 Juniors strove to carve a glorious history out of one short year. Symbolized by the brightness of a new class ring, this year's Class of '70 attained new heights in their goal, self-achievement. From the experience gained from Freshman and Riveter football and basketball, the Juniors filled the ranks of the Varsity team quite impressively.

The Class of '70 boosted school spirit by sponsoring homeroom game prediction contests and homeroom scholastic achievement goals. Electing Shannon Benton as their attendant, the Juniors pushed toward a most memorable homecoming. In late autumn the Junior Class Play, "Oh Promise Me," was presented, and the Juniors again proved their many talents. The 1968-'69 Juniors also sponsored an unforgettable Junior-Senior Prom. Through their activities, this year's Class of '70 proved to slip easily into the shoes of Upperclassmen and promised to strive toward making their class the greatest ever at K.H.S.

Preparing for their first stage presentation, Juniors rehearse for "Oh Promise Me."

Class of '71 Adds Perspective

Shirlee Hampton stops to inquire about the daily menu.

With new goals and brighter faces, the class of 1971 began their sophomore year at Kewanee High School. Behind them were the treasured memories of their freshman year, but ahead of them were the joys of speech class, the tensions of learning to drive, and the excitement of choosing class rings.

Being able to follow the Riveter cheerleaders in backing their own Riveter team gave the Class of '71 a new meaning of sportsmanship and school spirit. Their sophomore year also provided them with a foothold in school pride that would gradually build during their final years at K.H.S. The first signs of this school pride were brought out during the homecoming season when a sophomore homeroom placed in the car competition and the sophomore class elected Sheri Smith as their homecoming attendant.

With both feet on the ground the sophomores fought to improve the records they reached as freshmen. Their outstanding and noteworthy achievements throughout the year were ample evidence that they attained this goal. Once again the Class of 1971 proved that with each member working together they could reach new heights on the ladder to success—and they did!

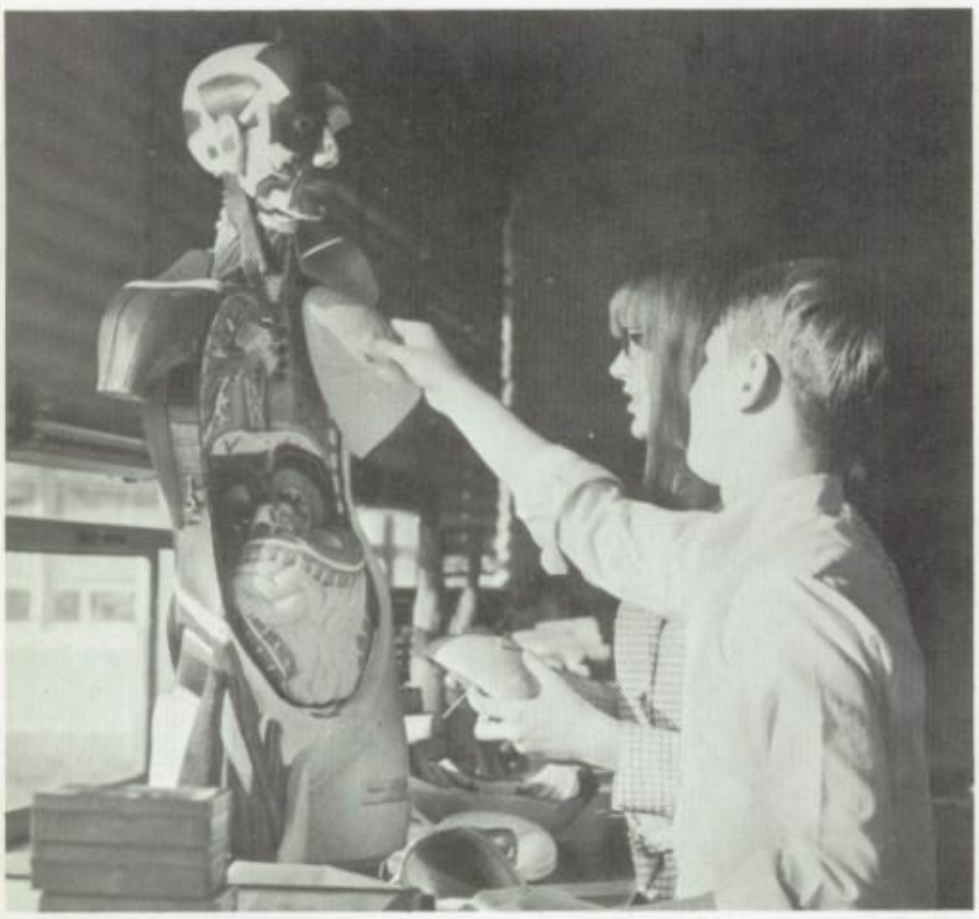
Frosh Grow Accustomed to K.H.S. by. . .



Freshmen science students meet the challenges of biology lab.

In spite of the usual first few mistakes, the freshman class showed the other classes at Kewanee High School that it was unique. Throughout the year the Freshmen proved their ability to serve as leaders, being represented in sports, music, organizations, and other school-sponsored activities. It was their participation that added to the year's success.

August found the freshmen anticipating the coming school year as they tried to imagine future days at K.H.S. On the first day they were comparing schedule cards, reading the student handbook, and wandering in the halls in search of classrooms.

Later, as the days at K.H.S. became more routine, the freshmen felt that they were a real part of the school and its activities. During homecoming they elected Sue Zumber as their attendant and added much to the festivities with their creatively decorated cars. In January they crammed for their first semester exams, while February brought relieved tensions and thrills of their first formal dance.

As the end of the year approached, the freshman class looked back at their first year. They realized that there was a need for improvement. With a strong will and determination, the "Class of '72" battle to become well—equipped future sophomores.

K.H.S. Students Choose John Coné S.C.P.

It was evident from the student reaction and poster-covered halls that the Student Council Presidential election would be an exciting one. Nominated by the Class of '69 were two fine candidates: Tom Terry and John Coné.

During the first part of the campaign preparation, Tom's campaigners made posters and buttons to persuade the students to vote for him. Meanwhile, in the Visitation School basement, John's followers designed posters to support their candidate.

Toward the end of the week the election took on a more serious tone. At the assembly, speakers persuaded students to vote for their candidate. One representative from each class was given the opportunity to present his views on his choice. Tom entrusted his campaign to his competent manager, George Puskar; while Gary Buffet took on the duties of campaign manager for John.

Each student voted by secret ballot during his lunch hour for the candidate of his choice. Receiving the majority of votes and the honor of being president went to John Coné. Thus, by exercising the right to vote, the students of Kewanee High School paved the way toward better leadership for their school.

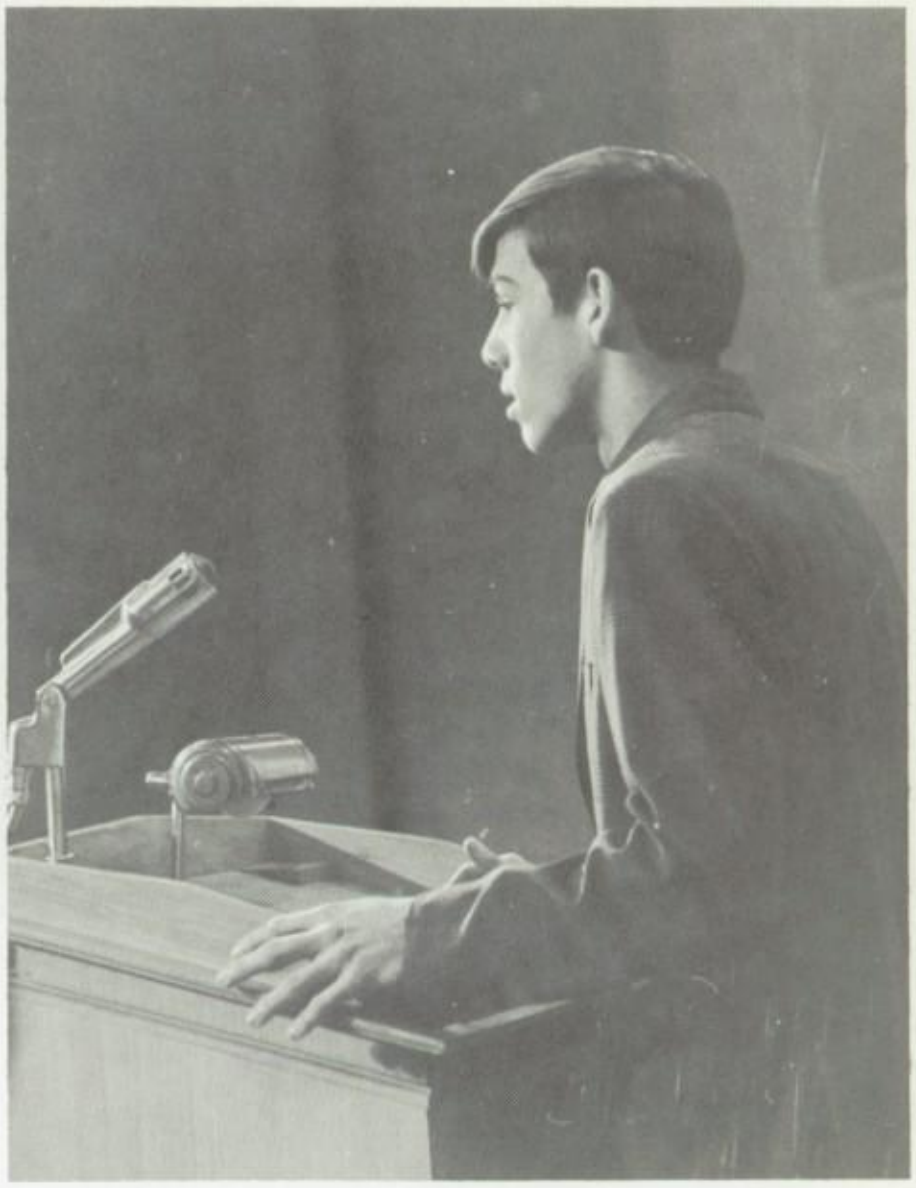
Pat Miler, Anita VerHagen, and Casey Gerwig plan their strategy for the election campaign of John Coné.

Mike Moriarity approaches the speaker's stand to persuade his classmates to vote for Tom Terry.



The tally of votes showed that the student body had chosen John Coné to serve as 1968-69 Student Council President.

Excitement as Homecoming Begins

Bill Mattingly—the "Magic Mirror"—finds delight in throwing a pie at Mary McIntire during the Junior skit.

With all the excitement of the football season building up, Homecoming hit Kewanee High with a bang. The week-end's activities rolled into action starting with the bonfire on Thursday night. The spirit was tremendously high as the fight sign of Homecoming came to life.

The assembly Friday afternoon proved even better than the high-spirited bonfire. The whole auditorium seemed to vibrate from the constant roar of "Let's Beat Ottawa!" The assembly then continued with the presentation of the Honorary Boilermaker Award to Miss Adela Wesebaum.

After the skits were given by the classes and the cheerleaders, the moment which everyone had been waiting for finally arrived. Melanie Laub was announced as 1968 Homecoming Queen and Nancy Allen as Senior Attendant. At the conclusion of the assembly, students rushed toward the parking lot to add last minute touches to their cars for the parade through town.

By early evening every student was wishing that the long-awaited football game would get underway. From the moment the co-captains crashed through the hoop till the final gun sounded, the Boilers tried with all their might to "Sink the Ottawa Pirates."

As all good things must come to an end, so must Homecoming. The dance on Saturday night, sponsored by the Class of '69, was the last glittering aspect of a glittering Homecoming.

Mid-Winter. . . a K.H.S. Winter Holiday

Steve Padilla and Mary Jackson marvel at the immensity of the snowman.

Awed by the beauty of the "Winter Wonderland," couples attending the annual Midwinter Formal in February, found themselves part of a wintery atmosphere almost identical to the one outside. Delicate snowflakes of varied sizes and shapes seemed almost to be floating from the sky of light blue and white streamers overhead. Transforming one of the gym walls into a realistic winter scene was a life-size mural from which an icy blue stream ran peacefully beneath a small wooden bridge. Romance was in the air as couples revealed their fondest wishes to the magical depths of a small wishing well tucked away among dancing shadows. The orchestra, while providing fitting mood music, proved to be an excellent addition to the evening's enchantment as excited couples danced under the colorful streamers. Viewing the night's activities from far overhead was a giant 10-foot snowman. With a sparkle in his eyes and a smile on his face, he completed the memorable decor of a "Winter Wonderland" not soon to be forgotten.

Seniors create memories at their last Mid-Winter.

Co-Editors of Kewanite and K-Chronicle lead the Grand March amidst the enchantment of a Winter Wonderland.

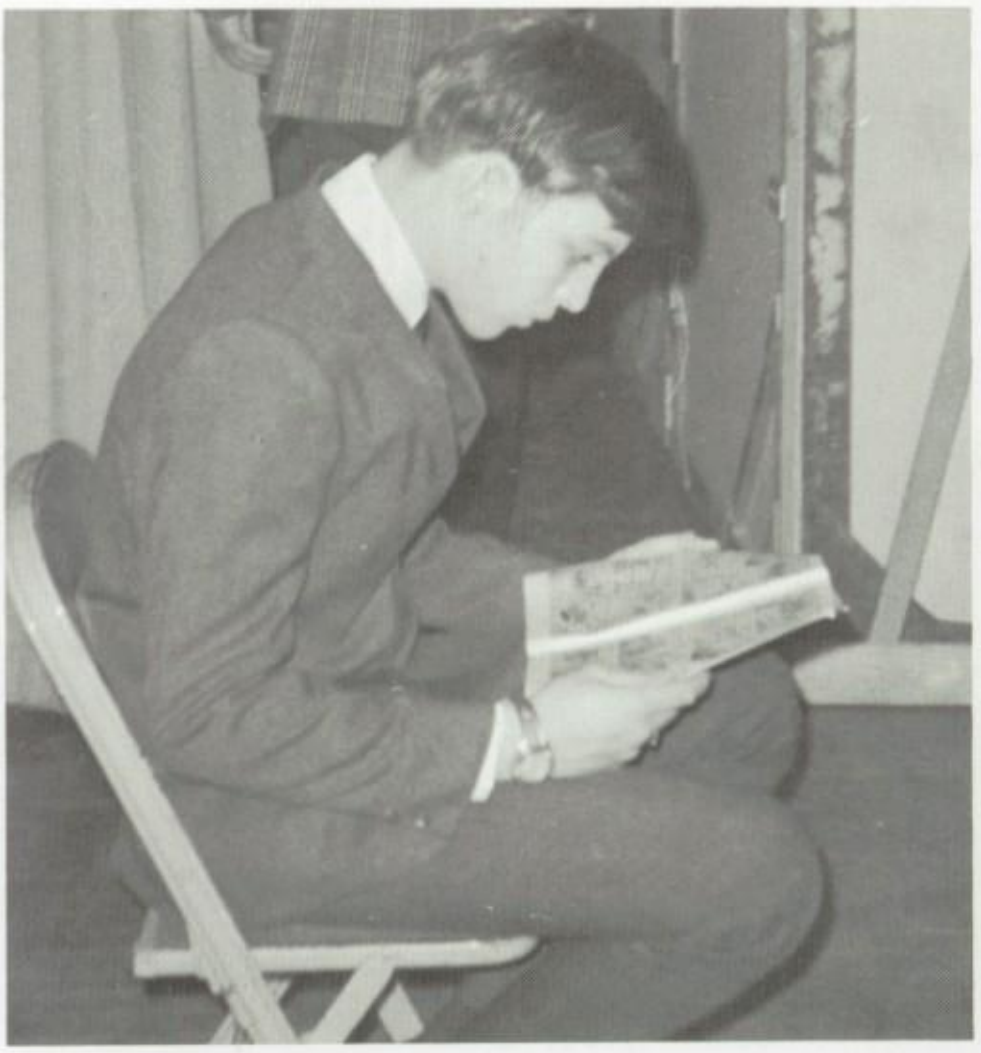
Comedy Attracts a Full House

Having fun by portraying a backward country floozy, and red-headed, hot-tempered, Irish cook, was the theme of the Junior Class Play. Proving to be one of the most successful plays ever at K. H. S., the rollicking comedy, "Oh Promise Me," put on by the class of '70 played to a capacity house.

The play revolved around Barry Hollis, playboy millionaire, who had more than his share of troubles. As he went through his complicated life, which included kidnapping a baby, the audience enjoyed immensely the various comedy situations. The lighting techniques in use enhanced the stage, as the actors played to the limit of their talent. Funny, hilarious, and remarkably done were just a few of the comments which praised the Junior Class Play at its end, proving it to be a memorable one for all involved.



Don VanDeRostyne forgets his stage fright by reading about the adventures of his favorite comic-book hero.

Coordinating all of the cue lines takes much dedication of cast members.

Class of '69 Presents Powerful Mystery

Play cast members, Kathy Moriarity, Penne Winters, and Paul Hockemeyer spend early rehearsal hours memorizing their lines.

Tense and filled with excitement, the members of the Senior Class Play cast worked diligently towards producing a memorable drama. Using the theme of a powerful mystery, the cast of "The Haunting of Hill House" participated in the kind of play rarely seen in the auditorium of K. H. S.

The theme of the play revolved around an expedition to explore the psychic phenomena of a "haunted" house. Leading the expedition, the cast's veteran actor, Larry Flannery, provided a solemn atmosphere while Kathy Moriority gave a tremendous performance in the role of a neurotic girl. These two actors were well-supported by a fine cast of interesting players.

Aided by a skillful make-up crew, a dedicated stage crew, and the efforts of the Senior Class as a whole, the cast proved their worth in the tremendous success of the final performance. Playing to a delighted audience, the Senior Class Play Cast gave the graduating Seniors a play to be proud of.

Prom Takes Students to Gay 90's Era

Pat Ball works diligently to make the mannequin look realistic.

Reminiscing, Jean Harvey and Larry Dixon cherish their last prom.

A summer scene, an ice cream parlor and a blacksmith's shop were all part of the '67 prom, as the Juniors brought "The Gay Nineties" to Kewanee High School. As each couple passed through the doors of the K.H.S. gym, they entered a new era in time. While some couples danced, others strolled around the "square" or sat leisurely on the white iron benches under the apple trees. All who went were intrigued by the running water wheel and the 1890 carriage that added a touch of reality to the decorations.

Before intermission, couples participated in the Grand March led by Junior and Senior class officers. The balcony was jammed as friends and relatives watched the activities of the '67 prom. As intermission continued, students gathered for refreshments at the lemonade stand where they were served by underclassmen adorned in the traditional dress of the "Gay Nineties".

The hour grew late and the era of the "Gay Nineties" was drawing to a close, but as each couple departed, they took with them fond memories of a successful '67 prom.

'68-'69 Council Voices Student Ideas

This year the 1968-'69 Student Council tried a new approach to the problem of greater student voice in school activities. Under the supervision of Student Council officers and members, students were given new privileges and responsibilities during the year. They included supervision during the lunch periods without the aid of teachers, responsibility for the gym which was open to the students during lunch, and operation of a record player in the gym for the benefit of the students. In ways such as these, the ever-present gap between student and faculty ceased to be a major problem at Kewanee High School.

Every Tuesday morning during homeroom period Student Council members held meetings to discuss various activities around K.H.S. Participating in the Student Council meetings were homeroom representatives, organization heads, and A.F.S. students. Throughout the year they sponsored such activities as Homecoming, social hours after games, sale of student directories, and raising money for the A.F.S. fund through such activities as the A.F.S. pizza sale.

Council President Coné prepares to lead the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance.

A.F.S. Members Promote Brotherhood

A.F.S. Officers: Miss McCarthy, Adviser; Mrs. Tumbleson, Adviser; Pat Bills, Treasurer; Sally Hanson, President.

Following their goal of promoting world friendship, the Kewanee High School Chapter of the American Field Service once again adopted a foreign student and initiated her into the American way of life. Through the generous offer of a home by the Lyle Boley family, the A.F.S. chapter this year cordially received a German girl, Christine Giese. As with the other students of different countries brought to Kewanee, Chris was introduced to a friendly people and treated hospitably.

Also, in keeping in stride with other A.F.S. organizations, the Kewanee Chapter again sponsored their annual pizza sale. With the unselfish aid of high school volunteers, the American Field Service made enough money to help sponsor other exchange students.

The Kewanee A.F.S. also managed to send American tidings to foreign lands in the guise of Sally Hanson, who spent a memorable summer in Brazil. The A.F.S. Board spent much time in advancing world friendship and promoting American and foreign culture both here and abroad.

1968-69 Active Year for Key Clubbers

The installation of new members is only one of the many duties of this year's Key Club president, Pat Miler.

"Help a Child To Smile" was just one motto adopted by the Kewanee High Key Club this year. This motto, used nationally by their "father" organization the Kiwanis Club, was incorporated into the Key Club agenda for September. Many members were found on the corners of the downtown district one rainy Saturday in September taking an active part in the Kiwanis Kids Day Peanut Sale. These dedicated members were indeed "helping a child to smile" as all the money was used to help handicapped children.

With the coming of Christmas another annual project was underway. Posted in every classroom was a sign which read "Lend a Hand - Give a Can!". As students rushed into their homerooms depositing canned goods in the provided cartons, the contest raged on. Such competition among the homerooms is rare, but this year it helped to instill the spirit of giving in the students.

The Key Club performed another good deed by purchasing soap for the Dixon State School. The money was collected from the sale of the Key Club calendars which contained all the activities scheduled for the 1968-69 school year.

With "We Build" as their motto the Key Club did help to build a better organization, a better school, and a better community.

Junior Red Cross Promotes Good Will

Jr. Red Cross Officers: Mrs. Tumbleson, Adviser; Jan Anderson, President; Jim Skutnick, Treasurer.

It is the job of the Junior Red Cross to prove that young people, still in school, are able to help other people. Besides the success in collecting from the students during their membership drive in the homerooms, the members received much help from the students in bringing small articles to be packed and sent overseas. The money and the small, inexpensive gifts sent overseas not only help in times of disaster, but also promote goodwill. The Kewanee High School Junior Red Cross, which is affiliated with the National Red Cross Association, has representatives from each homeroom.

Students contributing their time and effort to the Kewanee High School Junior Red Cross found self-satisfaction as well as fun. Through a sincere effort to help the needy, the Junior Red Cross came through again to contribute their help to a worthy cause.

Student Art League Broadens Knowledge

The Kewanee High School Student Art League broadens the knowledge in the vast field of today's art to all interested K.H.S. art students. The Student Art League again sponsored the annual Homeroom Christmas Display Contest. Homeroom 7, who won first place, and Homeroom 2B, who won second place, were rewarded for their effort and originality.

The Art League also sponsored bake sales and a social hour to help earn funds for their spring trip to the Chicago Art Institute. At their biweekly meetings, programs of interest were presented. Speakers were invited to lecture on various aspects of art, and after the lecture, the members participated in creative art activities such as painting and designing.

In early spring, the Art Exhibit was held at Kewanee High School. At this time, the students' drawings, canvases, paintings, sketches, and sculptures were displayed in the gymnasium and the classroom windows. The student body and the public were invited and encouraged to attend. By participating in the Student Art League, students increased their knowledge of the arts and gained a greater appreciation for them.

One of the most active clubs this past year at Kewanee High School was the Future Homemakers of America. They started the year with their annual initiation-get acquainted party, where all the new members were introduced and some of the club's activities were explained. These girls were kept busy throughout the year with various activities, ranging from Daddy Date Night to sponsoring social hours. Along with helping the school, they also worked to benefit our community by selling Easter Seals and helping with the A. F. S. Pizza sales. These girls accomplished much this year, and they had fun doing it.

Another hard-working organization was the Librarian's Club. Checking books in and out, stacking, filing and typing kept these girls busy during their free school time. These tasks would keep most of us busy in all of our free time; however, they found time to sponsor bake sales and go on picnics. The year ended with a Librarian's Convention, which all members attended. It was a busy and beneficial year for the K. H. S. librarians.

F.F.A. Gains Insight Through Experience

Characterized by members with a wide range of interests and talents, the Kewanee Chapter of the Future Farmers of America attained increased participation and learning throughout the 1968-'69 school year. Members of the F.F.A. undertook special projects during the year such as the Kewanee F.F.A. dance and their annual chili supper, which proved to be their main money-making projects of the year. Much of their free time was devoted to interviews, contests, conventions, and various other activities, many of which were held on state-wide or national levels. Projects such as these provided the future farmers with an advanced look into the problems and daily routine of their chosen profession. Besides learning the most effective and improved methods of farming, the boys received basic knowledge of such subjects as public speaking and parliamentary procedure. Through their co-operative efforts and steady participation in F.F.A. during the year, the members gained the necessary knowledge and experience needed to succeed in their future vocations and at the same time earned credit for themselves and for their school.

V.I.C.A. and O.O. Promote Responsibility

Members of the Vocational Industrial Club of America gained much experience in different business professions during this past year. Through V. I. C. A. and the cooperation of many local businesses, some students were granted the opportunity of trying their skill in the business world. In an attempt to make their club better and more interesting, the officers attended a convention in Springfield. At the end of the year the members attended the annual Employer-Employee banquet, with V. I. C. A. being host this year to other school organizations. It was a busy and productive year for the V. I. C. A. boys.

Another club which helps to prepare students for the business world is Office Occupations. Being one of the newer clubs here at K. H. S., O. O. proved to be one of the most spirited. Officers were kept busy this year traveling to neighboring communities, gaining new and different ideas from organizations similar to O. O. Their trips included area meetings to Davenport, Moline, and Galesburg, and a convention in Chicago. Their year ended with the annual Employer-Employee banquet, being guests of the V. I. C. A. organization. A busy and eventful year had ended for the O. O. girls.

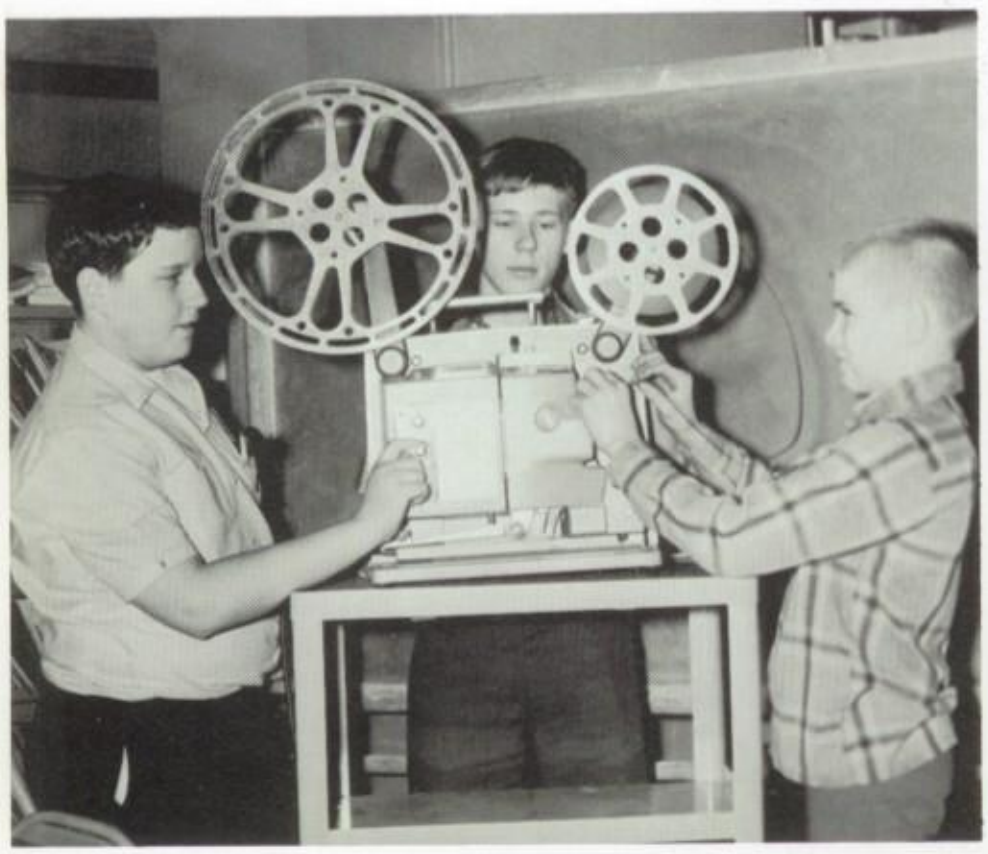
Unique Organization. . .Projectionists

Projectionists: Terry Madsen, Larry VerDick, Randy Grimes.



One of the unique organizations at KHS is the Projectionist Club. This new organization is represented by three freshmen who assume many important responsibilities. The main concern of this group centers around knowledge associated with the projector. This knowledge is often acquired during school hours, especially for science programs.

These students, however, have also assisted in areas outside of school activities. They operated projectors for the Illinois PTA assembly, in which schools from all over the state participated. With the help of their adviser, Mr. Leitze, the members of the Projectionist Club were enriched with both valuable knowledge and useful experience for the future.

Beginning French Club Proves Active

Imagine yourself entering a room and hearing an entirely different language being fluently spoken. This is commonplace for all members of the French Club during its meetings. The secretary's minutes, new business and the planned program are all spoken as much as possible in the French language. This is just one of the many different aspects of the newest club to be organized at KHS. The French Club, under the direction of Mrs. Hamm, was founded for the purpose of expanding French culture by stimulating KHS students. Other major goals of Le Cercle Francais were to increase fluency and comprehension in the French language to all scholars who are presently or were formerly enrolled in French at KHS. The French Club meetings featured interesting guests who had been associated with French environment. The meetings were also very unique in that all of the activities were accomplished in French. Songs, games, and refreshments were all related to the French culture. The organization also prepaerd a Christmas dinner which consisted only of French foods. Such delicacies as portage aux perles, salade a la vinaigrette, poulet, and torte aux poires were prepared for the dinner. Through such experiences as these, the first year of the French Club was indeed a successful one.

"Latin Provides Stability. . ."

Latin Club Officers: Pam True, Treasurer; Jan Hultgren, Secretary; Mr. Carlat, Adviser; Janene Blodgett, President; Linda Samara, Vice President.

When you hear students involved in a discussion over Aeneas, and you begin to wonder what class this new student Aeneas is in, it's about time to have a talk with any Latin student. The fundamental goal of the Latin Club is to study the language and gain a real understanding of ancient Rome. The Latin students are able to apply their knowledge to other subjects they are studying. Mr. Carlat, the Latin Club adviser, remarked that, "In these days of constant change, Latin provides stability of subject matter on which so much of our Western civilization, culture, and language are founded."

The club concerns itself with providing meetings at which the effects of Latin on our society can be discussed. On the social side, the Latin Club sponsored a social hour after the Junior Class Play and planned a trip to Chicago. "The main purpose of this organization is to learn and pass on our knowledge of Latin and have fun while we do it!" exclaims Mr. Carlat as an enthusiastic, involved organization adviser.

Pan Am Prompts Spanish Culture

With the beginning of another school year, the Pan Am Club turned over a new leaf by electing officers and introducing an unprecedented schedule of events. This organization sponsored various activities including social hours and parties.

They were fortunate to have numerous guest speakers at their regular meetings which are held the first Monday of every month. These speakers impressed upon the members the importance of the Spanish language, as well as the many other interesting facts concerning the language, the people who speak it, and the country of Spain itself. Many of the high-achievers were given the opportunity to participate in literary contests held at Knox College and ROVA High School.

With the continued efforts of Mr. De Los Santos and the cooperation of all the members, the club achieved its purpose of increasing an interest in the Spanish language and cultures. The varied activities, along with the cooperative spirit of the Pan Am club members, contributed immensely to a successful year.

Kewanite Catches K.H.S. in Action

Editorial Staff: Kneeling: G. Vancil; T. Terry; L. Flannery; C. Mirocha; Back Row: J. Hultgren; P. Buswell; S. James; J. Tessman; L. Weber; C. Hepner.

"Please Buy our Kewanite" was a musical number which seemed to echo throughout the entire auditorium as Kewanite Amateur Hour came to a close. This entry, as well as many others like it, seemed to arouse the humor of every student that morning as the annual Kewanite skit served as a kick-off for the first "Kewanite Week" ever held. Other activities during the week included a contest for the best designed Kewanite cover and a prize for the first homeroom in each class to have 100% Kewanite sales.

Making Kewanite Week possible, however, was just one of the many tasks of the 1968-'69 Kewanite editorial staff whose main and most important responsibility was the actual production of the yearbook. With only a few scattered facts and ideas to go on they began work early to make this year's Kewanite one of the best ever. Working along with the editorial staff and concerned with the financial side of a successful yearbook was the sponsorship staff. Many hours of their time went into the job of soliciting funds throughout Kewanee to make this year's Kewanite possible. Although the work may have seemed hard and time-consuming, the reaction of the students at the end of the year made all efforts very worthwhile.

Being on the K-Chronicle staff is more than a full-time job. Members can be seen busily searching for stories, covering current news events, writing heads, and planning pages. Besides the regular news articles, the paper also has a calendar of school activities, numerous editorials, mystery student articles, Off the Field coverages, Dr. Sims Talks to Teens, and write-ups on recent sports activities. The K-Chronicle also includes write-ups honoring students and faculty for their achievements.

Distributed once every two weeks, the "Friendly Paper for a Friendly School" fulfills its policy to inform its readers, to encourage student participation in school activities, and to recognize the entire student body. It keeps its policy with its vivid school news stories and sports coverages.

In addition to their staff duties, the K-Chronicle members also take an active part in the social life at Kewanee High School. The K-Chronicle and the Kewanite share the work and profits from the annual Mid-Winter Formal held in February. They also sponsor social hours and run a concession stand at the home football games.

Being on the K-Chronicle staff is more than a full-time job. But the staff of the 1968-'69 "Friendly Paper" can be proud of a job well done.

F.T.A. Promotes Interest in Teaching

F.T.A. Officers: Kathy Moriarity, Treasurer; Sally Hanson, President; Jeanne Tessman, Vice-President; Peggy Boylan, Secretary; Trish Hepner, Points Chairman; Mr. Arnold, Adviser.

Foreseeing the possibility of one day performing the duties of a full-fledged teacher were the members of the dedicated Future Teachers of America. Realizing, at all times, that along with the joy of having a truly fulfilling job, the educator's task also includes hard and frustrating work, the F.T.A. members faithfully put their full strength to the task at hand.

This year the 1968-'69 club decided to put into effect a new idea. They painstakingly prepared a monthly school calendar containing all school activities and displayed it for the full view of all K.H.S. students. This thought proved highly successful and provided not only a helpful hint to forgetful pupils but also more prestige to the organization. In addition to this attraction, the F.T.A. also carried out its regular activities of acting as teachers' aides and decorating the cafeteria's Christmas tree.

Sponsoring an acclaimed teacher tea during American Education Week was also an aspect of the group's work. This work, along with the cheerfulness and willingness to help of every member, managed to make the F.T.A. one of the most respected organizations at K.H.S.

F.S.A. Develop Skills

Preparing themselves for a rewarding future in the secretarial corps, the members of the 1968-'69 Future Secretaries of America studied diligently the much needed arts of typing, shorthand, and dictation. Composed of both Wethersfield and Kewanee youths, this year's F.S.A. made ardent strides in readying themselves for a future job. With the goal of a summer job or eventual steady work in mind, the F.S.A. members practiced the intricate details of the touch type system and carried out the sometimes trying but always rewarding art of taking dictation in shorthand. Learning the signs and the symbols for the letters and the words of the alphabet were only a few of the many obstacles they bridged. Having fun while they worked toward their future careers made for an interesting and joyful year for the F.S.A. members.

The Camera Club, small but energetic, gained experience in one of the fastest growing fields of art today. Through the use of special photography equipment, the club's members supplied interesting pictures of school activities to the K-Chronicle and the school's bulletin board. For themselves the Camera Club learned the many parts of the camera, studied the art of developing pictures, and participated in a Scholastic Photography Contest. These members, through the use of their camera, prepared themselves for a rewarding career as future photographers.

Playing the role of unsung heroes of K. H. S. are the members of the Stage Crew. Proving to be indispensable in the activities on the stage, the Stage Crew performed the functions absolutely necessary to the operation of a Class Play, professional assembly, or just an ordinary assembly. These, often unrecognized troopers, managed to make many dull stage scenes interesting through the special effects of colored lighting. Through these little tasks the Stage Crew proved to be an enormous deciding factor in the various performances on stage.

Coné Continues to Spark Debate

Realizing that performing well in speaking events is quite necessary to a well rounded school, the members of the debate squad endeavored to make Kewanee proud of them. This year saw the beginning of the Annual Kewanee Invitational Debate. This function proved very successful with many Kewanee youths capturing the top spots. John Coné and Pete Guzzardo as Varsity debaters and Gary Shanks as a Novice debater managed to show their excellence in the art of debate.

Working endlessly with the topic "Compulsory Service" the K.H.S. debaters met every day with their adviser, Mr. McKee, and practiced their cases diligently. These members, in their attempt to achieve a successful style of debating, proved to be a great addition to Kewanee High School.

K.H.S. Speech Club Gains Recognition

Speech Club Officers: Suzanne Fulton, Vice-President; Laura Loomis, Secretary; Mr. McKee, Adviser; Larry Flannery, President; Bridget Lane, Treasurer.

The development of more expression to coordinate a well-picked subject was the aim of the 1968-'69 Speech Club. This organization sought to perfect the art of public speaking in its members. Under the capable hands of Mr. McKee, this troop successfully participated in competition in the NCIC and district levels of speaking. Besides displaying their skills in Radio Speaking, Extemporaneous Speaking, and Oratorical Declamation, the Speech Club members also demonstrated their prowess in Verse and Prose Reading. Not forgetting that every organization should have an element of fun, the members also took part in Original Monologue — successfully imitating a bumbling ostrich and a rather under-handed frog.

Hoping to display their flair for dramatics, a secondary organization was formed. The Thespian Club executed, after long hours of hard work, an extremely interesting play which was entered in competition. This spirit of fair competiveness as well as the development of individual skills characterized the K.H.S. Speech Club.

Industrial Ed. Develops Craftsmanship

"Practice brotherhood, make the most of opportunities, and develop qualities which will make a master craftsman." The Industrial Education Club, comprised of 23 members, once again lived up to its motto. The Industrial Education Club, which was founded in 1954, consists of all boys who are interested in increasing their knowledge concerning the many types of crafts. Through this organization, students gain a more thorough understanding of such basic crafts as metalworking, woodworking, drafting, and welding. This club offers a foundation for future training and careers in the many fields of industry. This basis for learning also involves an active participation in school events. The Industrial Education Club, guided by their adviser, Mr. Morrison, sponsored a social hour and also participated in various other programs during the year. Probably the most stimulating of these programs was the annual Industrial Education Convention which was held in Springfield. Here schools from all areas of the state discussed their knowledge concerning the various crafts. Through avid participation in numerous activities and dedication toward their work, the members of the Industrial Education Club made their organization deserving of recognition.

Big K, Symbol of Lettermen's Club

Genuine enthusiasm was displayed by the members of K. H. S.'s Lettermen's Club. At all times, conforming to the code of rules and ethics that pertains to all sportsmen, the Lettermen participated in all approved activities that added to the prestige of the club. Under their adviser, Mr. Vincent, these students proved their interest in sports by being effective managers and players. Effectively using its large membership, this club proved its usefulness by being there when other organizations needed help. Meeting the requirements of possessing a major letter, the lettermen showed that they could eagerly work as individuals for the betterment of the team as a whole.

Rounding out its activities, the lettermen participated in the annual Lettermen-Faculty basketball game and proved that hard work, as well as physical and mental abilities, could be tempered by fun.

Acting as cheerleaders, basketball lettermen showed what "talented" supporters they really were. The football lettermen put on a dazzling array of their basketball ability, as they doggedly fought to keep the faculty hustling. These K. H. S. students, always active in school functions, made the 1968-'69 Lettermen's Club one to be proud of.

K.H.S. Cheerleaders Bolster School Spirit

Varsity cheerleaders promote spirit by chanting "Let's Beat Ottawa!" during this year's Homecoming parade.

With great hopes for a great season, the 1968-'69 Cheerleaders worked hard to boost school spirit. Through the use of new techniques and ideas they tried to arouse more student interest in sports at K. H. S. The cheerleaders spent much of their time preparing skits for the assemblies. The student body saw the cheerleaders posing as "cowboy Boilers" on the gridiron against the Sterling Warriors, and also as the Princeton Tigers after a gruesome battle with the ferocious Boilers.

With the arrival of the basketball season the cheerleaders had several surprises in store for the student body. They practiced from September to November in order to perfect their tumbling which was added to many cheers. The cheerleaders also aroused student enthusiasm with their new eye-catching uniforms. The cheerleaders proved to be an essential part of athletic activities throughout the year. Although it was a busy year, it was a year of great accomplishments in cheerleading and athletics alike.

G.A.A. Upholds Traditions

Executive Board: Sally Hanson, Parent Activities; Jeanne Tessman, Civics Award; Mary Jackson, Bake Sale.

The Girls Athletic Association is one of the school's most active organizations. G.A.A. stresses sportsmanship in bowling, swimming, volley-ball, apparatus, basketball, and softball. This year they also sponsored a modern dance course for girls at K.H.S.

Besides the regular sports activities, the G.A.A. girls ushered at the home basketball games. They also hosted the N.C.I.C.-G.A.A. Playday in November at Central School.

Each September, a Get-Acquainted Party is held for all freshman girls and prospective members. September '68 found the officers upholding the party tradition. Another tradition is the Dad and Daughter Night where girls and their fathers compete in games and relays for fun and prizes.

A successful year was completed with the annual Award Night in May. Members, old and new, will long remember their participation in G.A.A.

A Busy Calendar for Twirlers, Pom Pom Girls & Orchestra

Orchestra Officers: W. Zang, Secretary; C. Matson, Vice President; B. Good, President; L. Loomis, Treasurer; Dr. Fly, Adviser.

Under the direction of Dr. Fly, the members of the K. H. S. Orchestra made great advancements in the field of music. Throughout the year the orchestra members were kept busy exercising their talents at many school functions. This included performances at the Class plays and the annual Christmas concert. Besides these activities, some of the orchestra members participated in the annual Mississippi Valley Orchestra Festival. This concert is open to any member who wishes to compete in it, and K. H. S. is always well represented.

Decorating the talented performances of our music department, the Twirlers and Pom Pom Girls strained for the perfect effect. This year both groups performed actively during the basketball and football halftimes. Jane Frazer was selected feature twirler at K. H. S. this year. It was evident she deserved this title by her always skillful performances. It was an enjoyable year for these students and one which held many memories.

Marching Boilermakers Move Onward

Band Officers: Kathy Stewart, President; Nancy Gadomski, Treasurer; Mr. Dillard, Director; Phil Packard, Vice President; Kathy Herriot, Secretary.

The Kewanee High School Band was an ever-ready and willing part of the K. H .S. home games this past school year. Always working toward perfection, the Marching Boilermakers practiced diligently to display their best talent during the half-time performances at our football and basketball games.

Other activities the K. H. S. band participated in this year included selling candy bars to raise money, arousing enthusiasm at pep assemblies and performing at their concerts. Along with these numerous home activities, the band also traveled to other communities throughout the year. This year our Marching Boilermakers were invited to play in Western University's Homecoming Parade. Under the direction of Mr. Dillard, the K. H. S. Band made a fine impression in representing our school. The band members also traveled to Monmouth High School this past year where they participated in the annual Tri-School Festival together with the Galesburg and Monmouth bands. All these events and more made up the memorable year for K. H. S. Marching Boilermakers.

New Choir Director — New Sound

Officers: Pat Hepner, Secretary; Phil Packard, Vice President; Mr. Dillard, Director; P. Guzzardo, President; Ann Boley, Treasurer.

Characterized by new songs, new activities, and new members as well as old, the 1968-'69 choir proved to be invaluable in providing its members with practical vocal experience. Those students interested in the fast-moving field of music worked diligently with the director and accompanist toward their goal of making this year's choir an even bigger success than those of past years. Choir members found themselves enjoying the music program of Kewanee High School while at the same time learning and developing the most effective ways to make use of their vocal talents. Benefiting especially by the knowledge and experience gained in choir during the past year were those members interested in pursuing a music career.

The daily rehearsals, serving as a means of improvment of tone and style, proved to heighten the many choir performances during the year. Select members of the choir attended the N.C.I.C. Music Festival in LaSalle-Peru on February 16. The choir succeeded in presenting an enjoyable means of entertainment for the school and community. Through their annual Christmas concert the choir brought song into the Christmas season. The spring concert, held during the last weeks of school, served as a fitting end to a very successful year for the K.H.S. choir.

Trying Season Braved by Varsity Boilers

Victory-bound Kewanee Varsity Boilermakers return to the field after rousing halftime pep talk.

Records are sometimes very deceiving, especially for the 1968 Boilermaker Football season. The "68" varsity squad was always tough, and several of the games were decided in the remaining minutes of the games. Hard work and the desire to win sparked the squad when most other teams would have quit.

Injuries to key figures in the Boilermaker attack hampered the team's progress. Mark VanDeRostyne, a promising Sophomore, Junior Bob Breedlove, and Senior Rick See were a few of the many gridiron casualties this year. Leadership, nevertheless, was still in the capable hands of quarterback Mark Krumtinger. He, along with Pat Miler, Steve Jacobs, and Jim Roginski were honored by being selected for all-conference teams.

Coach Em Lindbeck received valuable help from his assistants, Mr. Larry Kohler and Mr. Bill Taylor. The coaching staff, in effect, prepared the Boilermakers for tough competition.

Riveter Football Plagued by Losses

Gridders Dave VanDyke, Steve Peart, and Doug Godke plan a new strategy for the Riveters.

Bad luck hurt our Riveter football team this past fall as dropping the close ones haunted the team. This was mostly due to the lack of depth and the loss of top performers to the varsity rank. The Sophomores combined their efforts and teamwork despite this handicap to provide the Kewanee fans many thrilling moments.

In their lone win of the season against eight setbacks the Riveters posted a come-from-behind victory. The winning tally came via a safety with the clock showing less than a minute left in the contest.

Despite their record, Coach Edleman's Riveters looked very promising this year and are hoping to make their varsity years successful ones in K.H.S. uniforms. A few of the more promising varsity prospects are Don Harvey, Gary Hill, and Chuck Warnken.

Though finishing on the wrong end of a 3 win 5 loss record the Kewanee freshmen proved to be an aggressive and fighting football team. Due to the lack of Sophomore depth, Coach Van Hootegem lost some of his valuable freshmen to the Riveters.

The fine signal-calling of quarterback Scott Yarde and the pass-receiving of Rick Cernovich and Larry Taylor prompted much praise from Coach Van Hootegem. Others who tackled double duty as Riveters were Jim Elsey, Gary Shank, Mark Ouart, Frank Ryan, Mike Jones, and Jim Padilla.

Sporting the best record of the Kewanee football teams the freshmen have much to look forward to in the upcoming future.

Varsity Boilers. . . .Champions of Spirit

Pat Miler harasses Geneseo's defense with his fine ball control.

Though not sporting an impressive record, 6-15, the Boiler basketball squad did not let this pull them down. They continued to apply all their ability and come up with many exciting games. One of the brighter spots was a second place finish in the Northwest Conference, although the always menacing N.C.I.C. brought them the cellar spot.

The outlook for Coach Lindbeck's forces is very optimistic as he has two sophomores who played for him. Tom Smith, the jumping jack, found a permanent berth on the varsity while Tom Miler was brought up near the end of the season. Seniors Lee McNaught and Pat Miler along with Smith were ranked as tops of the Boiler rebounders and scorers while Jerry Guy, Gary Mitro, and Tom Stontz took care of the ball-handling and play-making position. Steve DeSmet's position in the line-up was changed from center to forward. Promising juniors were Marty Egert, Bill Breedlove, Rick Welch, and Mark Krumtinger.

Finishing with their best record in years, the Kewanee Riveters proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that teamwork and desire are very much a part of winning. Despite the fact that an outstanding sophomore, Tom Smith, was displaying his talents on the varsity squad throughout the entire season, the Riveters exhibited hard work and team effort. This team work paid off as the Riveters produced a fine record of 13-8. Displaying their determination the Riveters also did exceptionally well in the Northwest Conference, winding up with a 4-1 tally to claim the championship laurels from the grasp of Galesburg. The Sophs had many highly regarded cagers, one of which was Tom Miler, who saw a limited amount of ball-handling in varsity competition. Other fine players for Coach Edleman were Don Harvey, Gary Hill, Stanley Allen, Bernie Seyller, Rick Johnson, and Marty O'Connor. Looking back it was a very successful season for Coach Edleman. If our Sophs continue to put their teamwork and determination together, in the future they could prove to be one of the greatest basketball teams ever in the history of KHS.

Freshmen Compile Impressive Record

Mr. Van Hootegem coaches freshmen Cagers during a brief time out.

The Kewanee freshmen posted impressive win and loss records in both the A and B competition this season. Coach Vincent and his B squad exhibited much promise and determination. The coach feels he had a fine team this year and commented on the aggressiveness of his squad. A few of his top players were Earl Dunn, Steve Pont, Tom Ratliff, Frank Ryan, Mike Miller and Bill Kohler. Mr. VanHootegem and his talented A squad put together a very highly extolled record. This A team has a high level of potential and is looking forward to a very promising future. Tops on Coach VanHootegem's list were Scott Yarde, Nelson Lay, Rick Cernovich, Mark Ouart, Mike Egert, and Kalvin Peart.

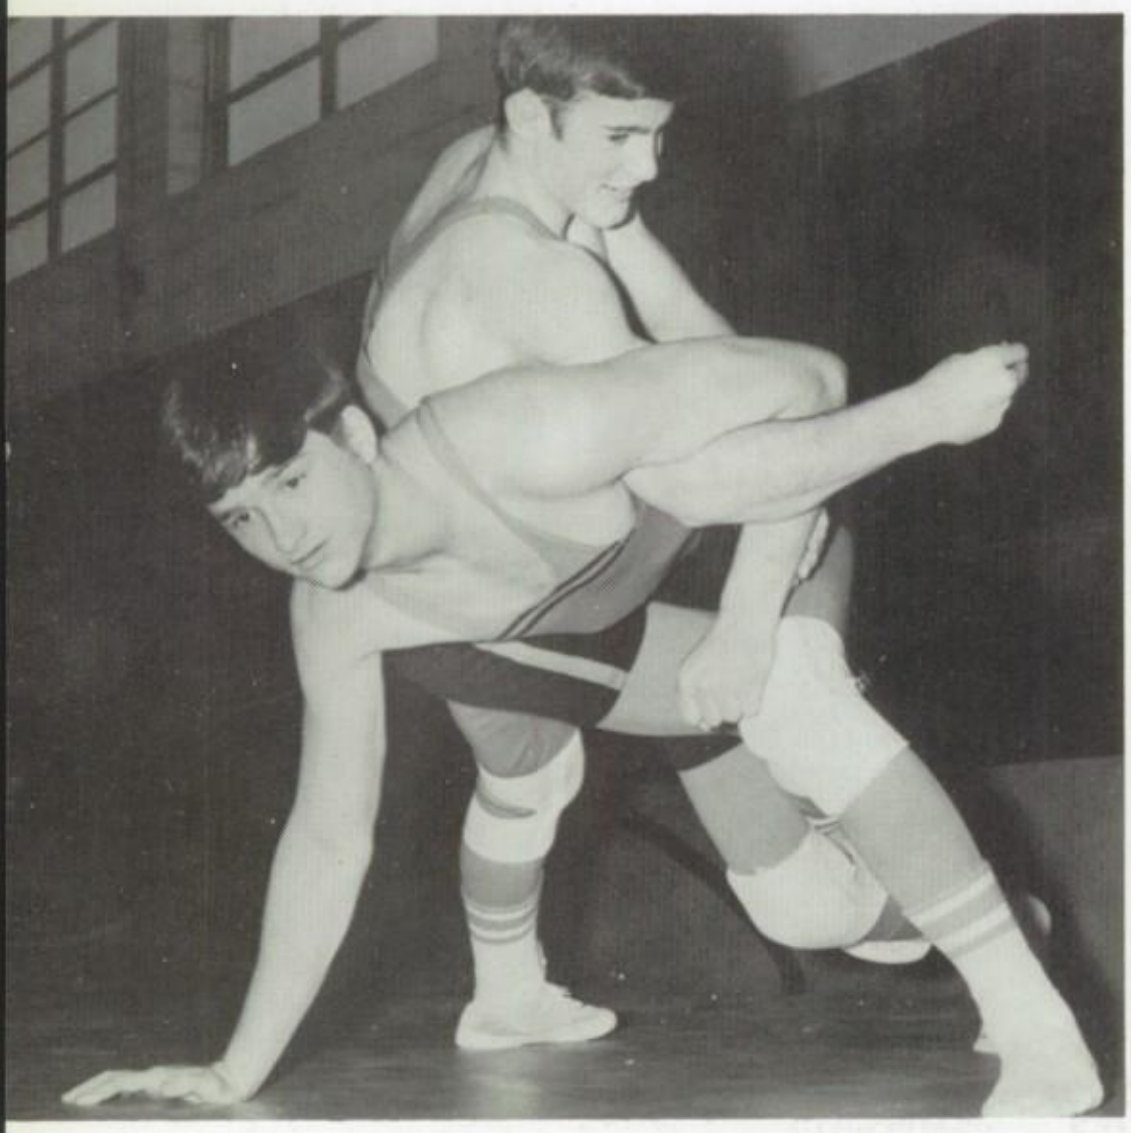
Varsity grapplers Roger Fox and Randy Grimes prepare for Kewanee's entry in the Winola tournament.

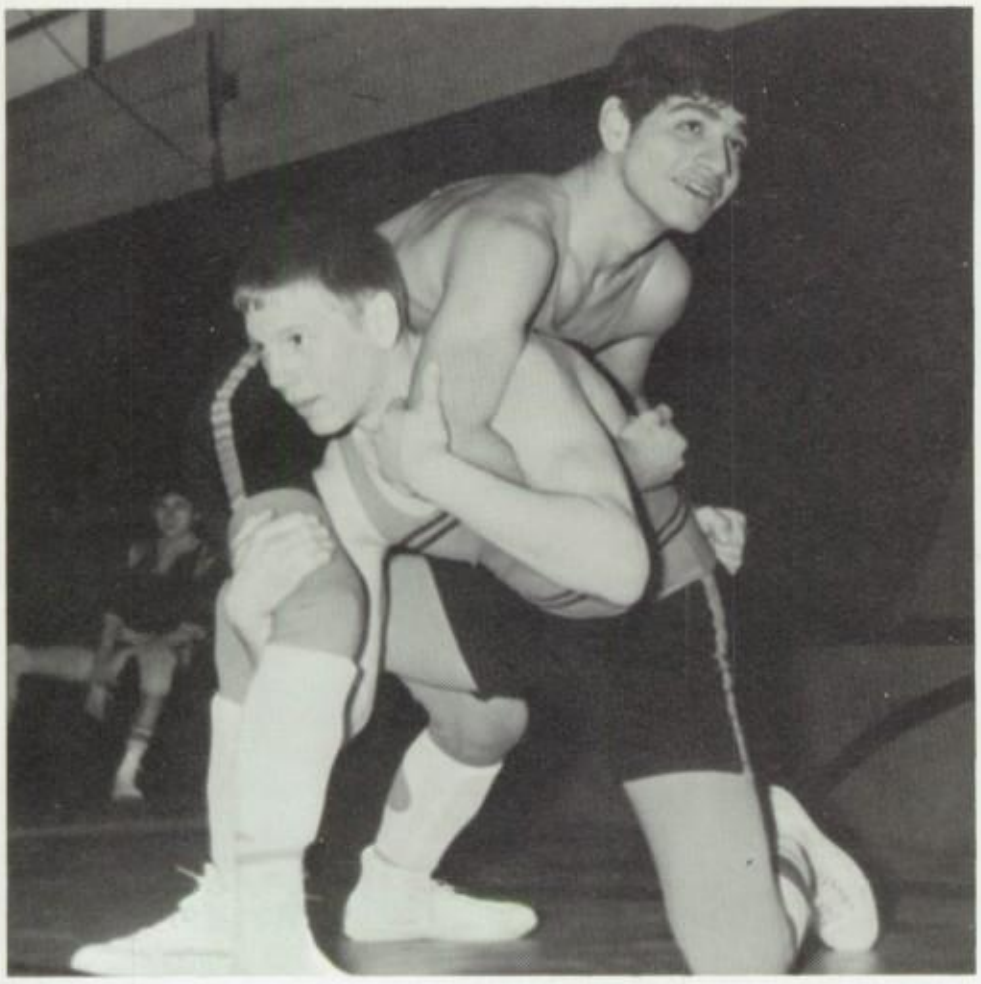
Grapplers Complete Winning Season

Bob Breedlove and Randy Lane practice determinedly for their next meet.



Often a young team has a defeatist attitude. This year, however, was an exception for the Kewanee High wrestling squad. The KHS grapplers proved that they could win; and when they did win, it was done in admirable fashion. With only one senior on the squad this year, the inexperienced team worked hard during practice sessions. This team spirit paid off in a decisive victory over Orion and a win over Geneseo. The grapplers also did surprisingly well in tournament action, taking a first in the Winola Invitational and second in the district competition held at Princeton.

Fine efforts also came from individuals this year. Jim Roginski, the only graduating senior, took a first or second in every meet, and Ed Grant won all but one of his decisions. Ed also took a first in his field at district. Fine performances were also achieved by Randy Grimes, Dave Bomleny, and Bob Breedlove. Team spirit, fine individual efforts, and hard work helped to achieve victory for the KHS wrestling team.



Jim Roginski traps Dan Cervantez in an expert hold.

Golfers Swing a Successful Season

Pointers on playing golf are given by veteran swinger Rich Kirley.

Successful was the perfect word to be used in describing the 1968 golf team at Kewanee High. Through a team effort comprised of fine individual strength, the linksters proved to be one of the most victorious groups at KHS. Individual medalist honors varied in each golf meet, so that there was no individual who led the squad this year. The efforts of Pat Miler, Dave Peterson, Rich Kirley, Rick Welch, and Don Verstraete contributed to the victories. The linksters, under coach Adam Lazar, defeated Princeton, Canton, and Morrison in dual meets. Probably the best achievements of the team came outside of dual competition. The linksters captured 2nd place in the NCIC Conference and also did very well in district action, placing 3rd in the competition. Probably the most outstanding accomplishment of the golf team was capturing the Northwest Conference Championship. With the entire varsity squad returning next year, KHS could prove to be an even stronger threat in both conference and district action.

Harriers Pace Off Season of Victories

Varsity Harrier Tom Miler puts forth the skill and effort needed to lead the Boilers on to victory.

To most students, a run through Baker Park would constitute a tremendously grueling task. Yet for the Kewanee High cross-country team, such a run was part of a daily routine. Under the direction of Coach Ken Vincent, the K.H.S. Harriers paced off near marathon distances every practice. These exhausting practices paid off, as the team piled up a composite record of 3-5-1.

Although cross-country is essentially a team sport, outstanding individuals are always noticed. This year, the varsity team had two such runners, Ken Dawson and Vernon Crain. Junior runner Ken consistently was K.H.S.'s top harrier, with Vernon, only a sophomore, finishing hot on his heels. On the junior varsity level, the two top pacesetters were Seniors Tom Stontz and Gary Mitro. Yet the whole team contributed to the overall effort needed for victory. Even though cross-country gained little recognition, this team more than adequately represented K.H.S. on the slopes of Baker Park.

K.H.S. Relay team practice for the upcoming season.

Thinclads Face Tough Competition

Rick See, Senior Hurdler, takes advantage of the early practice times before beginning the 1969 track season.

1968 was a year of rebuilding for the KHS track team. One of the highlights of the '68 season was the outstanding efforts of many individuals. Ron Saey, as a junior, broke both the school record and the Northwest Conference record in the 440 yard dash. Saey also went on to state in his event. Tom Smith, as a promising freshman, displayed fine all around ability in both the high and low hurdles, the high jump, and the broad jump.

The efforts of these individuals sparked the team in many close decisions. One of the finest experiences for the team came at the beginning of the season, when KHS participated in the First Annual Western Illinois Invitational. This indoor track meet included many outstanding schools from the Western Illinois area. One of the best team efforts by the squad was a second place finish in the Geneseo Maple Leaf Classic. To be sure, the KHS track team has the potential for future success.

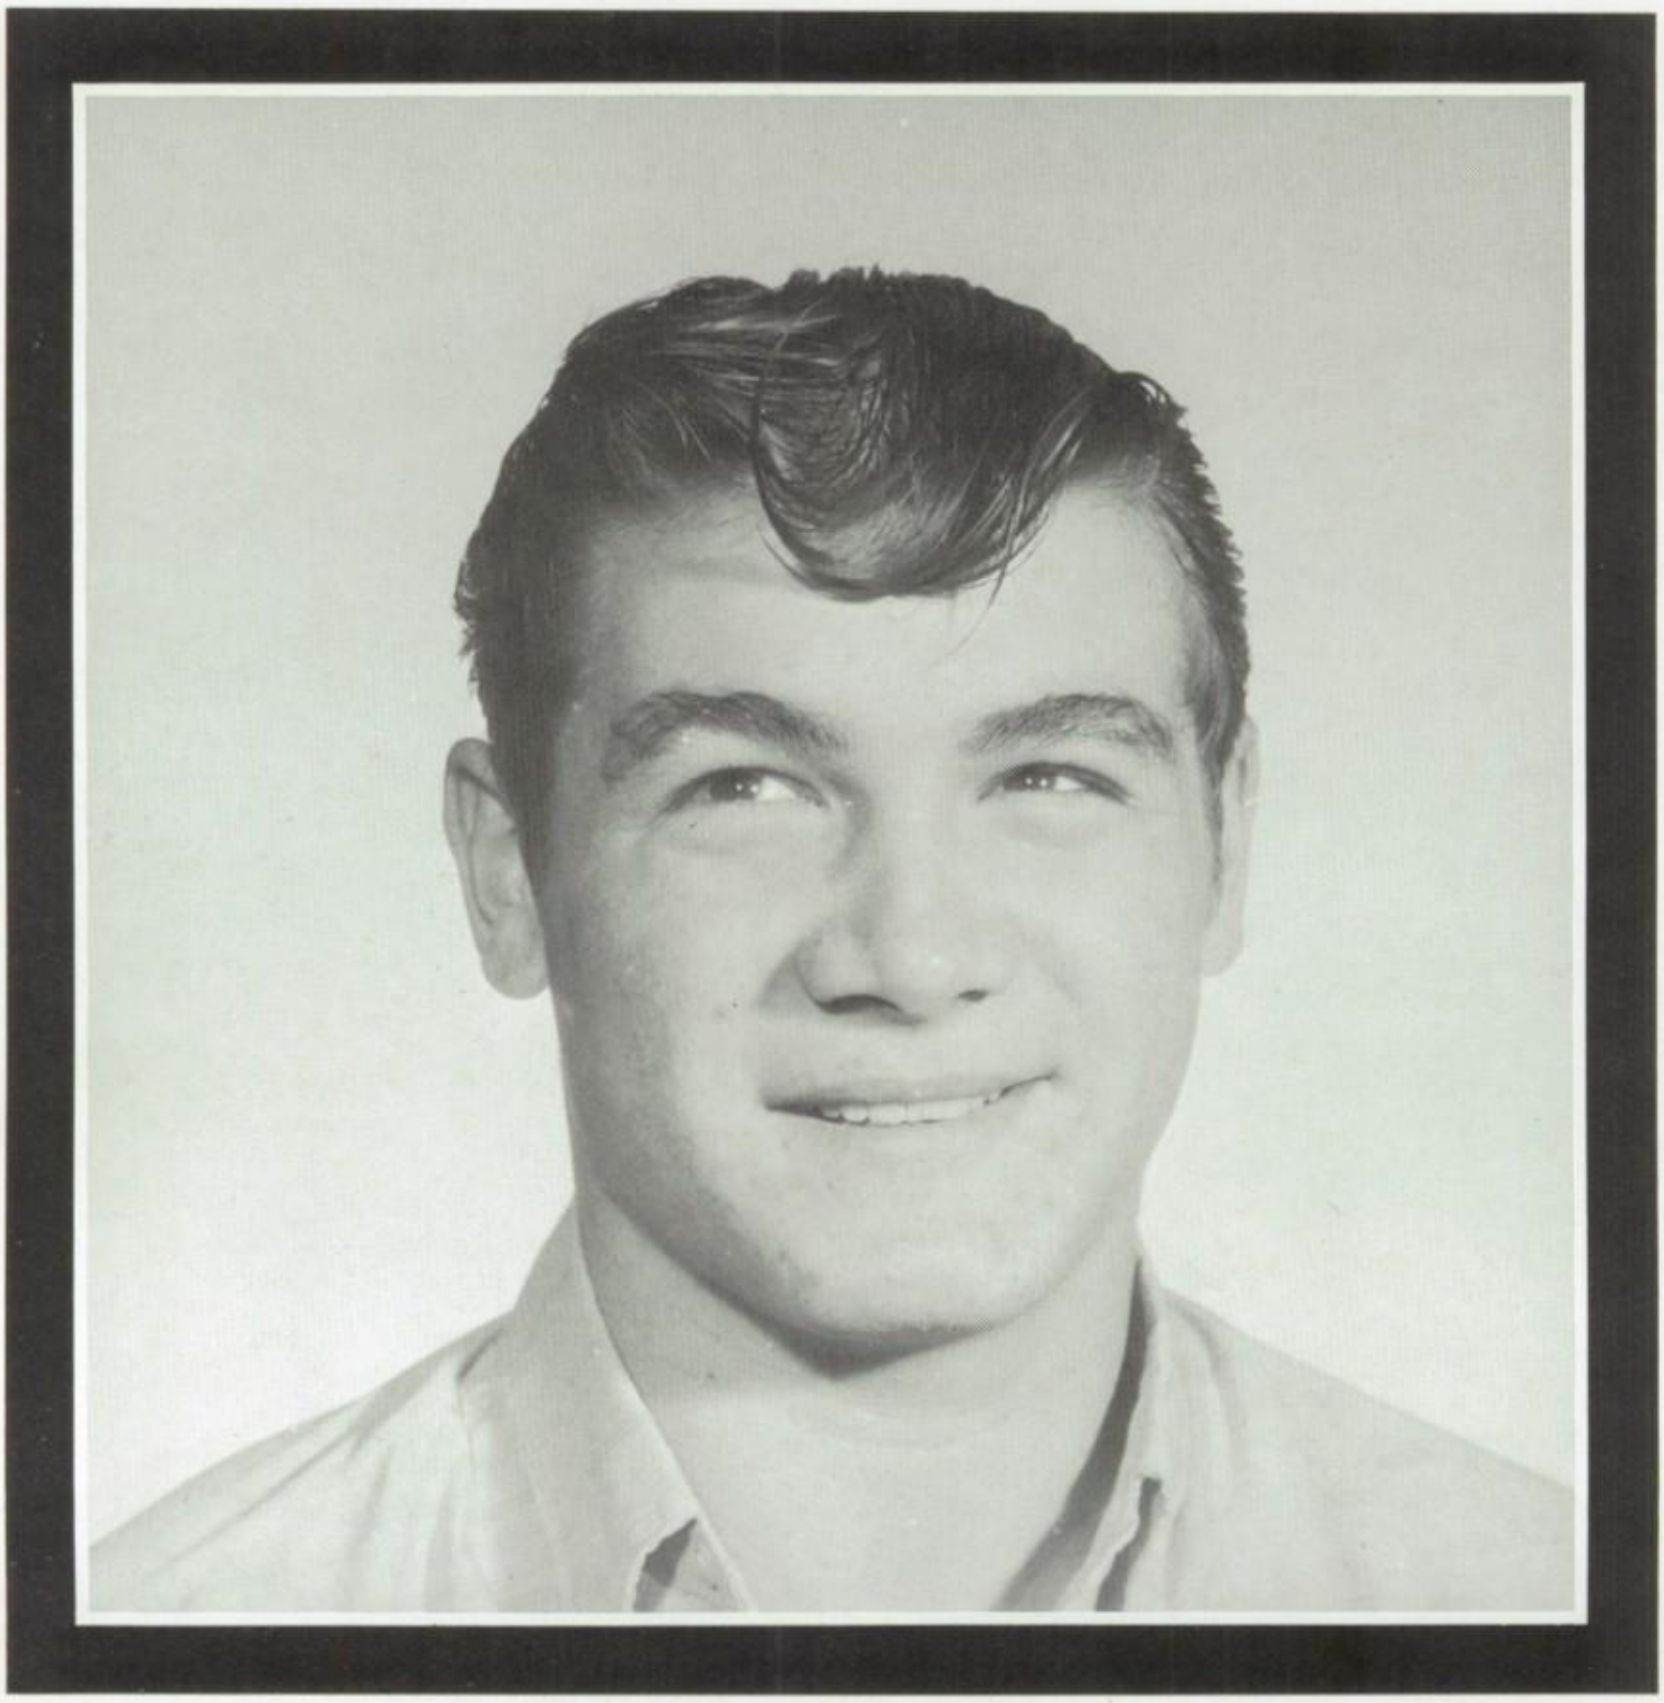
In Memoriam

Terry Sellers



The Abiding Love
by John W. Chadwick

It singeth low in every heart;
We hear it each and all—
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call.
They throng the silence of the breast,
We see them as of yore—
The kind, the true, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more.

SAVE!

DEAR Shay

Didn't think we'd make it here this year, DID YA?! I just can't believe we've MADE it this FAR- Seniors! Remember our Frosh. year when it was so great to be Sophs, + then upperclass now... but I don't think it's really hit me yet that we're really big guys. This year we haven't had quite as many fights, have we? And think of all the new people who have become permanent friends now. Like all the guys in the club, Pam, Debbie Mary, it's great huh? And you have Amy. I wish you all the luck in the world with him God knows you deserve somebody as great as Terry is. This summer will just have to be the best in our whole life, won't it? Cos now we're here. It's cool. Love ya Laurie

Sharon.
I hate to leave
you but we all have to go sometime. Be good next year and carry on the tradition of the groovy flute
section. Remember all the jokes and everything we did in Band.
Be good this summer
if possible and Good Luck. Love Kathy.

Shay,
we used to be good
friends - - what happened?
Well Donnie hasn't spoken to me ever since he went out with Laurie so we'll be friends again I hope. Be good.

Sharon,
I'm going to miss you and I wish you all the luck in the world.
Love
Debbie

Sharon,
It's over for this year, but there always next year.
See ya this summer. Don't do anything I wouldn't do.

Shay,
Good
luck always.
Enjoy yourself
you! It really goes fast!
Be good!

Sharon
Boy I am lucky to be the first one to write in the back of your book.
Band sure was different this year. Just think you will be first chair next year!
English was crazy. Mrs. Hoke might recover from it through the summer.

Marilyn

Hello
Shay,
Remember
ole English & History class. Crazy old you & Beth Newman really broke the boredom in History class. Be good this summer & have
lot's of good time

Sharon,
aren't you glad
that we are seniors?
I sure have thought about how nice it's going to be. Sorry we didn't have something else besides band together. I'll look as a senior and have fun
this summer

Love,
Linda

Sharon!
Just Remember
the great 4th
period study hall
and all the trouble
that we got into.
Be good this summer
with boys, lots of Luck when you're a big senior.

Well this has sure been a pretty good year. For a while we had some pretty hard feelings but now they're mended. Good luck & have fun this summer.

Pat
"72"

Shay,
Hasn't it been a fun year? It was a lot of fun, but now we're Seniors! Good luck to you this summer. See you next year as first chairs in Band (we hope). Be good & I hope I see you this summer, too.

Jennie Hultgren

HI SHAY

THANX FOR THE SUPPORT WE NEEDED IT BAD. WE CAN COUNT ON YOU AND LAURY

TOM

CWA

Sharon,
Let's have fun today & buy you an ice cream bar. Remember me sure glad I'm a senior with you & not a Freshman.

Peggy '71

Sharon
Best of luck to you- Enjoyed having you in Study hall
Miss Ballance

Sharon,
Well we Seniors next year! Have fun this summer & be good. Vicki '70

Sharon,
Gee, no more History, we had fun didn't we. Next year I'll be as far away from you in our flute section as I am now. Be good this summer Don't practice!

Beth '70

Shay,
Remember good ole bookkeeping class. How could anyone forget that! Be good and have lots of fun as a senior. Good luck!

Sara

MISS SHARON
I THINK I'LL HAVE TO STICK AROUND KEWANEE AT LEAST TILL YOU FIND ANOTHER PSYCHOANALYST. TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF - WHO ELSE DOES? DON'T SPEND YOUR WHOLE LIFE IN ONE PLACE.
